PILLOW TALK

Cozy, Plush, Round, and Soft

While curvilinear furnishings have seen a renewed love affair over the last four years, this trend is evolving to include upholstery that evokes the idea of restfulness and overall softness. We desire plush surroundings and need them furnished with soft, round pieces upholstered in forgivable textures that impart warmth and cozy comfort. In essence, we want our homes to feel like a pillow. Furniture that epitomizes ease and a relaxed lifestyle is the ideal for the modern day family-friendly home. These soft and smart rounded forms will create a voluminous look and feel to achieve this extra comfortable cozy aesthetic.

GARDEN SCULPTURES

Sculptural Metal Furniture

Some of my favorite pieces to layer into an interior space are actually inspired by garden sculptures and metal garden furniture more reminiscent of an English country manor or a Mediterranean villa. These pieces, some versatile enough for both indoor and outdoor use, will not only be sculpturally striking in your home, but will add a uniquely fresh and airy look to any home environment. So whether you opt for stylishly patinated vintage swirl-back garden chairs or a sculptural masterpiece like the futuristic Filinea armchair, with its seemingly impossible design of intersecting geometric lines, you will definitely be embarking on a new approach to home decor.

REINFORCING DOWEL

Cylindrical Dowel Inspired Furniture

Furnishings with smooth, curved surfaces seem to be on a continual trend all the way around. We are seeing a resurgence of demand for cylindrical or tubular shaped pieces, inspired by the sleek minimalist designs of the 1970s. Some designs even take their cues from wooden dowel rods commonly used as structural reinforcements in cabinet making, stylistically reimagined into functional casegoods with simple, sensual, and bold lines. These artistically handcrafted cylindrical shapes are showing up in both slender and chunky silhouettes, to suit all aesthetics.
